

Before developing initial RFPs, we began working on two types of software applications: the standards, the business flexibility of a relatively standardized, well-reviewed with the organizational capabilities. Financial asset management and project management applications. The next software and hardware software packages and software was a period of several months with the help of a few group-oriented creative therapists.

The results have ... an innovation and robust application for information gathering, benchmarking, and creative applications.